SECOND ISSUE OF FRONTIER GOES ON SALE FOR CAMPUS TOMORROW

"Human Interest Forest Fires," Several Short Stories Make December Number Interesting.

The second issue of the Frontier, on sale tomorrow, contains besides seven or eight short stories and poems, historical material of unique quality and another story of forest fires following the description of the Half Moon fire in October's issue which received wide attention and commendation.

Howard R. Flint, supervisor in charge of forests in District No. 1, has written an article, "Human Interest Forest Fires," which is vivid and arresting. The historical feature of this issue which is of particular interest is a collection of letters published by Dr. Archer Hulbert, the head of the Stewart commission on western history. The collection which is entitled "The First Wagon Train on the Road to Oregon," consists of letters written by men who crossed the trail in 1829-30 and furnishes the earliest record of traffic on the famous trail. These letters are published by the Frontier as documentary background for the celebration of the Oregon Trail Centennial which takes place in the United States next year.

Badger Clark, one of the two best known western writers, has contributed a poem, "Love Song." Mr. Clark read some of his poems in Missoula last year.

The best short stories in the Frontier include some well known authors. Mary Hartwick, appreciated for her stories of homesteading life in the West, has contributed "Tony and Marcia." Harry Noyes Pratt, secretary of the League of Western Writers in San Francisco, is the author of "Ranger Joe," and Dorothy Johnson, a graduate of 1927, has written a story called "Fruit Tramps."

The Open Range, a section devoted to true accounts of experiences in the West, contains a long account of early day horse trailing, by Luke D. Sweetman of Billings.

Two students in the University are contributors to this issue of the Frontier. Alicia O'Donnell, a junior in the English department, has two poems. John Ludlow, a biology student, has contributed the frontispiece design.

Dr. Rowe to Talk on Japanese Tomorrow

Will Give Lecture in Connection With Exhibit of Oriental Art

Japanese, Chinese and Indian art work is on exhibit at the Art department this week. Along with the exhibit, Prof. J. P. Rowe, who has made extensive trips in the Orient, will talk to the Art League Wednesday evening on Japanese art and subjects pertinent to it.

Professor Rowe will tell a little about the history of Japan and something about their religion, education, customs, temples and palaces. He plans to describe a few of the cities.

Professor Rowe will show some illustrations with his lecture and will explain how some of the artisans make their wares.

The exhibit consists of pictures collected from various places by Prof. C. H. Riedell showing Chinese and Indian artistry and a collection of prints sent by the Japan Art & Novelty company of Minneapolis, Minn.

These Japanese prints are made in a unique fashion. The design or picture is first traced on a fine piece of paper and from this it is cut into wood of cherry blocks by an engraver. The advantage of wood-cut prints was proved to overcome defects of brush work and uneven lines by improved methods of wood-cutting and skill of printing. To give color to the prints, individual wood-cuts for each color are made and even the least colored of these prints contain as many as thirteen wood-cuts. From the engraver, the cuts go to the printer for the final production on paper. These prints thus requiring the work of three men were nevertheless sold for as little as three cents a piece between 1700 and 1800.

The Art League will meet in the class room in Main hall at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. Everyone is welcome.

BYRD ORGANIZES GIVING EXCHANGE

Clearing House Will Prevent
Duplication of Gifts.

Christmas charity in Missoula this season has been organized by Hasseltine Byrd, instructor in sociology, and Mrs. Theodore Shoemaker, through the Christmas Giving exchange which will seek to avoid unnecessary duplication of gifts.

The exchange is a clearing house for 25 social groups in Missoula. In it all names of families recommended for aid, or applying for it, are checked, and their records investigated. In this way the individual cases of the needy families are brought to attention for study at the same time that Christmas help is given.

The exchange has received enthusiastic cooperation thus far, according to Miss Byrd, secretary, and over a hundred families have been checked. Support has been given by the Missoula Chamber of Commerce and the Daily Missoulian, as well as by private individuals. Two offices of the exchange have been established. One of these at the Y. W. C. A. handles the names of people wishing to help needy families, and the other at the Chamber of Commerce takes care of applications for aid.

The plan of the clearing house originated with Miss Byrd, who has carried it out with the assistance of the Women's club of the University church, under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Shoemaker. The program for the Women's club for this year was a study of social conditions in Missoula. Miss Byrd hopes that the Christmas Giving exchange may become a permanent part of the charity work in Missoula, as it fills a much felt need for more efficient charity.

Purposeful Scholarship.

SOMETIMES one almost overlooks the fact that there are students in universities whose attitude toward their studies is whole-hearted and purposeful. From a superficial observation of a campus population, and perhaps from the scanning of miscellaneous criticism and caricature of the college youth, it is easy to become cynical over the sincerity and intelligence of all students.

Supposedly one takes for granted the presence of sincere, intelligent students, but because they cannot be easily distinguished from the more noticeable collegiate balderdash that accumulates about most seats of higher education, one is inclined to doubt their existence. The selection of one of them from our University for a Rhodes scholarship award is a reminder and a reassurance.—B. W.

Music.

MECHANICAL music is undoubtedly one of the great advances of the machine age. It fills in the gaps of conversation, provides an excuse for singing, and brings the work of artists to our homes. We take it as a matter of course that we have phonographs, talkies and radios and no one would think of letting them interfere with the business in hand whether it be necking or serious conversation. We have become so used to music with our meals, our studies, our parties, and our bull sessions that it serves merely as a background or undertone to our other occupations.

This was not always the case. There was a time when music was a thing to be listened to, not talked above. Some remnants of that more tranquil age have been passed on to us. One of these is the University Symphony Orchestra which offered a program of classical music Sunday afternoon in Main hall auditorium. Many lovers of good music, whether they have a knowledge of it or not, look forward to the enjoyment of these programs and set aside other interests in order to attend them. For these people music provides not only relaxation but positive enjoyment. What is their chagrin, then, to find that they have inadvertently seated themselves in the midst of a group of chronic conversationalists. Prepared to listen in peace they find themselves irritated to the point of discourtesy by whistles and giggles from their neighbors.—L. M.

YOU'VE noticed how expressive the pipe can be, what meaning it can put into the simplest gesture. The pipe even helps you say nothing at all—and that, O mortal, takes a man among men!

Men to their pipes and women to their lipstick—but suppose you had no pipe and faced repression? Suppose you had no tobacco to put in your pipe! Empty pipes make empty gestures that have no meaning. Filled with good tobacco, your pipe becomes eloquent. Filled with Edgeworth, it is Olympian!

What, no Edgeworth? Lose not a moment—haste to the mails with the coupon. Let the machinery of government rush to you a free packet of good old Edgeworth, delicious and friendly Edgeworth, full-flavored, slow-burning, cool.

Communication

To the Editor:

Those who are concerned to see the growth of musical appreciation in Montana had cause both to grieve and to rejoice over the personnel of the audience at Sunday's Symphony Orchestra concert. The students were conspicuous by their absence. With all allowance made for the pressure of approaching examinations and the dire necessity of catching up with series of titles and page and chapter references, complaint might still be made that the mass of the Montana students do not choose wisely the best time or the best way to take their recreation. Having played at various activities all quarter, they now find themselves crowded against the hard wall of neglected studies. Thus when an opportunity offers for the most relaxing and truly recreating diversion, entirely free and calling for no effort on their part to enjoy, they must needs stay away and spend that hour and a half in hectic cramming.

But if the present outlook seems gloomy as to the state of musical interest on the campus, the presence of over thirty youngsters in the audience is vastly encouraging. Their little faces were fascinating studies in earnest and rapt expression. Their attention was so concentrated as to render them oblivious to all minor distractions around them; attention so profound that it might well be the cause of despairing envy on the part of many scatterbrained eds and co-eds who vainly attend lecture after lecture hoping something may stick to their fuzzy brains like lint to wool. The charm of the rhythmic motions of the performers, the play of light and sheen on the instruments, the magic personal charm that always plays between player and performer in any personal performance added to the fundamental appeal of melody and harmony all held them spellbound. It was a charming sight and a heartening one.—L. C. L.

"Don't wait till Christmas to enjoy the splendid ties we're showing," says The Togger.

THE TOGGER
YOU CAN'T TIE 'EM FOR GOOD TASTE IN TIES!

There's a touch of superior style in our men's wear. The fabric and roominess of our shirts. The royal quality of our ties. The fit and style of our Wilson sox. There's something about all of the dress accessories at 131 N. Higgins Ave. that SATISFIES YOU COMPLETELY.

Hi-Jinx is came and went. Thanks be.

Good in spots. A few spots. Thus our feeble opinion. Very boring and dragsome generally. Perhaps that is why the spots seemed so bright.

Sockettes was feeble, punk, and poor. There were a few good spots. Where we were mentioned.

The long-suffering Wilma adherent should not miss the Maurice Colbourne Co. giving Shaw's "Doctor's Dilemma." Personally we undertake the responsibility of guaranteeing a good show. The prices are very reasonable.

The Little Theatre, through Mr. Angus, has made possible student rates for the affair. A 25 cent discount will be allowed on seats costing a dollar or more. One must sign up at the Little Theatre. It is tomorrow night. And it will be good.

A week ago we were very fortunate. We had not read Cabell's "Jurgen," and had that treat in store for us. This week we are very fortunate. We have read "Jurgen," and it is entirely to our taste.

We like things that are good and dirty. That isn't why we liked "Jurgen," however, because our innocence protected us and we couldn't understand the anagrams and inferences.

Still it is excellent and skillful pornography, and a mystical sort of High Romance.

Spring is here. As far as we can see, there is no reason for spats.

The old story about the laziest negro, who was flat on his back when the boss came in, has some connection with the student outlook on concerts. It seems (stop us) that the boss said, "Here's a bottle of gin, Mose," and Mose said, "Jest set it closer, boss."

Everyone likes good music, but they lack the necessary thrust in their legs to get them off the Sunday afternoon davenport to attend a concert.

That's what it takes. Thrust in the legs.

Sports Writers Include Grizzly Gridsters In Released Lists of Outstanding Players

Morrow, Walker, Peterson, Mublick, Harmon, Ekegren, Cox, Carpenter, Lewis, Ryan, Murray Named.

Several Grizzlies have been named on the various all-star teams picked all over the country by sports writers, coaches and news syndicates. Jimmy Morrow has received the widest mention, his name being included in the list of outstanding players throughout the country which was published in the New York Sun. He receives a bronze medal for this mention. Morrow also received mention on Pop Warner's and the Associated Press All-American squads.

Sol Harmon was given an end position on the first team of an all-northern division selection by a Seattle newspaper. Waldo Ekegren was called one of the best halfbacks on the Pacific coast by the San Francisco Chronicle, and was mentioned in other teams picked.

Linebackers have been acclaimed as better than average are Russell Peterson, Clarence Mublick and Carl Walker. Mublick, guard, and Peterson, tackle, were placed on the second team of an all-northern outfit.

State Mention.

Eleven members of the 1929 squad were picked by Walter T. Scott of the School of Mines as being outstanding in state competition: Morrow, Ekegren, Carpenter, Cox, Harmon, Walker, Lewis, Ryan, Murray and Mublick. On the Associated Press all-state squad Morrow, Ekegren, Murray, Walker and Harmon were given first string berths and Lewis, Mublick, Spencer, and Carpenter were put on the second team. Jerry Ryan, Son Cox, Ted Mellinger and Ray Lyon were given honorable mention.

Of the men named above, four will not be present when practice starts for the 1930 season. They are Jimmy Morrow, Sol Harmon, Ray Lewis, and Ted Mellinger.

Big Razz!

As usual, Hi-Jinx was produced successfully, and there are the same rumors that it will be discontinued again. Mostly, they are just rumors, but then there is that same chance that there is something credible in them. It might be there.

Scandal will out, they say, and, as usual, it outed.

The Wilma was very, very nearly full. At the box office they said it was crowded. At any rate, the A. S. U. M. won't regret those few empty seats. Tickets were probably sold for them, whose owners did not come.

Theta Sigma Phi sold Dirty Sockettes, in the rain and out of it.

After some preliminary announcements the first act began: it razzed, scandalized, and stopped with a dancing chorus. Similarly the second, also the third. Then, intermission, followed two more acts just as interesting and more scandal. It seemed to end, the people rose, the curtain rose, the people sat. Then, it ended.

Out, through red-lighted exits, and into—the snow!—G. A.

The Seniors and Freshmen will take the floor first and after the first half of their game the Juniors and Sophomores will play their first half. This method of sandwiching the contests is used to save time.

Tonight Company A and Company B will play the first game and Company C and the Band will participate in the closer. Captains have been selected for the intercompany teams although definite rosters have not been made. Bud Grover, Scoop Luke, Bob Parmenter and Gordon Wallace are the captains.

Interclass will likely hold the most interest for the students who attend the games. Approximate lineups have been made and they will include men who are out for both Freshman and Varsity basketball.

"U" Men Appear on Fight Card Tonight

Three University mitt-slingers will furnish some of the excitement on the boxing card being held tonight at the Loyola gym. Six fighters from the campus were originally scheduled to strut their stuff, but have withdrawn for various reasons.

Deane Jones, present holder of the school featherweight title, will box six rounds against Benny York, a Spokane lightweight. Jones held the bantamweight title here in his freshman year, and has engaged in several bouts outside of school.

Cale Crowley, a freshman from Butte, travels four rounds against Soldier O'Buch from the Fort, and Bill Darcy, a freshman in the Forestry school, boxes four rounds with an unnamed opponent. The program starts at 8 o'clock, and will feature five other bouts besides those in which University men participate.
